

HUN ARMIES PREPARING DEFENSES TO HOLD OFF EXPECTED ALLIED ATTACK

APPOINTMENT OF FOCH AS COMMANDER A BIG MOVE

LITTLE CHANGE IN GENERAL LINEUP AS ALLIES LAY PLANS FOR FIGHT UNDER CENTRAL LEADERSHIP

BAKER'S MISSION IS APPARENT

By Capt. D. Great
United Press Staff Correspondent
The Germans are digging in. This information was contained today in a United Press dispatch from William Phillip Simms.

While Simms did not say how extensive were the German entrenchment operations this may be a tactical acknowledgment by Hindenburg that for the present at least the enemy drive is "through." Although it may indicate that the Germans in meeting the expected allied counter attacks will try to force General Foch's army to the renewal of trench warfare rather than to try to conclude the battle in the open—which the Germans themselves have stated they would prefer.

Simms told of the extension of the fighting front further to the north—as Cite-Saint-Auguste, a mile north of Lens, approaching Luce. The previous northern point of extensive bombardment was at Avion, a mile south of Lens. An extreme northern flank of the German infantry bombarded Acheville, 2 1/2 miles southeast.

A heavy German concentration on the Verdun front was reported by a correspondent of the Amsterdam Handelsblad who personally visited that sector. Shortly after the start of the drive the German military officials publicly announced that an offensive of an even greater scale would be made on "other fronts." This intimation may mean Verdun and in Italy.

Haig today admitted a short retirement at Demuin and Mezieres south of the Somme. He declared the British took a number of prisoners in a counter attack at the latter place. North of the Somme which bisects the battle front Haig characterized all the operations of the past week as "local attacks."

By Wm. Phillip Simms
With the British Army in the Field March 30.—The first phase of the Central Powers' great offensive is over I believe, that the second phase will begin as soon as Hindenburg's battered hosts can be relieved and gun-brought up. However it cannot be doubted that the situation is materially unchanged throughout the British lines this morning while the Germans like frightened bulls—digging passage overland checked—are digging in like mad in places. At midnight enemy attacks at Cite-Saint-Auguste broke down. Cite-Saint-Auguste is about a mile due north of Lens near Hill 70, and at some points east and south of Luce.)

By Fred S. Ferguson
With the American Army in France March 29.—Sergeant Major Charles Taft, son of former President Taft, has been recommended for a commission it was learned today. The recommendation made through the routine channels reached the chief of staff of a certain corps. It was said that although Taft is still under age he has served a year and shown qualities warranting a commission.

Secretary Baker reviewed the general headquarters and spent the entire day there today. The Secretary walked into a garage and asked the chauffeurs how they were "getting on." After he had left one of them asked who the "inquisitive civilian" was.

Five American artillerymen crossed No Man's Land rushing a dug-out in which were six Germans. Two of them parleyed long enough to exchange shots and are believed to have been wounded. The raiders returned to the American trenches unharmed through a German barrage. Americans on the Toul front in a silent raid without artillery preparation took four German prisoners last night. Artillery was very heavy on this front during the night.

By United Press
London, March 30.—"We were pressed back at Demuin and Mezieres south of the Somme but at the latter village we counter attacked and took a number of prisoners," Field Marshal Haig said.

"Only local action has taken place north of the Somme during the past week. Our cavalry has fought with great gallantry both mounted and unmounted, and have repulsed the enemy with heavy losses in numerous engagements. At Demuin the enemy attempts to take the village broke down after sharp fighting throughout the afternoon."

Washington, March 30.—That the appointment of General Foch as inter-allied generalissimo on the western front was the result of the direct urging of President Wilson advocated in person by Secretary of War Baker was the strong conviction of American officers today. Under the great allied armies under Foch it will mean the policy of "blow for blow" is certain. American officers are delighted with Foch's elevation, which has been advocated by this country ever since the super-war council plans were broadened in the need of greater cooperation and centralization. Foch's appointment coming so soon after Secretary Baker's conference with Lloyd George and the French officials convince American officers that Baker went abroad with President Wilson's request for a central command.

THE FRENCH REPORT

Paris, March 30.—The battle was resumed with violence last night. We progressed 25 miles at Moreuil and beyond Lassigny the French war office reported today. Our troops supported by continually arriving reserves are repulsing the enemy powerful assaults. Despite the bad weather French aviators continued their offensive the statement said. About 3,000 tons of projectiles have been dropped on the Noyon, Guisanc and Ham sectors. Three German machines have been brought down.

Moreuil is an important city about nine miles northwest of Montdidier in the direction of Amiens.

Little Louise and Hazel Fullington, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fullington, are spending a week visiting their grandparents in Curwensville.

Miss Frances Smith visited her sister, Mrs. Walter L. Fullington between trains today.

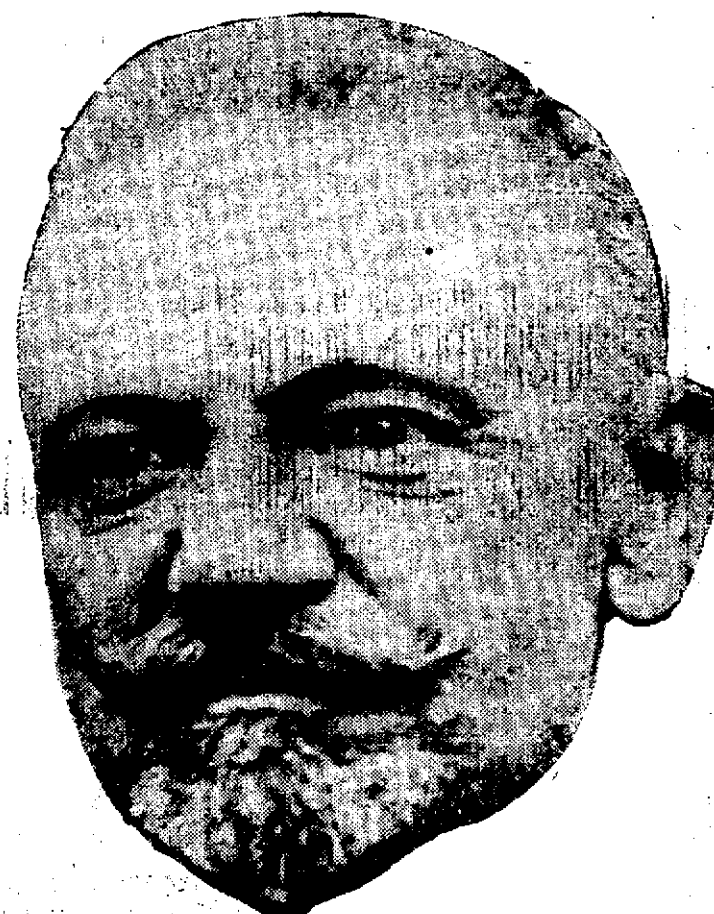

Miss Margaret Graham of Bigler spent yesterday at the home of her Uncle John Buchanan on West Pine street.

Mrs. J. W. Baxter of Morrisdale was among the out of town shoppers here yesterday.

Hugh Green of Winburne was in Clearfield on business today.

Mrs. Jay Murphy of Curwensville was in town shopping today.

GERMAN GENERAL WHO DESTROYED SERBIA BELIEVED TO COMMAND AGAINST AMERICANS

GEN. VON GALLWITZ

General von Gallwitz, who destroyed Serbia when in command of a German army, has been transferred to the western front, and it is now believed he is in command of the troops facing the Americans near Laneville. His path through Serbia was strewn with ruined homes.

BOYS IN FRANCE MUST ORDER THE ARTICLES WANTED

The Post Office Department authorizes the statement that at an early date an order will be issued to the postmasters throughout the country instructing them to receive no parcel post shipments for delivery to members of the American Expeditionary Forces abroad unless the articles offered have been requested by the individual to whom they are to be shipped and approved by his regimental or higher commander.

In the meantime, until the above-mentioned order is issued, such articles as are offered for shipment by parcel post to our forces abroad will be accepted, it being the purpose of the Post Office Department to have the order go into effect simultaneously in every post office in the United States.

War Department Bulletin

The War Department today authorized the publication of the following bulletin:

In future shipments of any articles to members of the American Expeditionary Forces abroad will be limited to those articles which have been requested by the individual to whom same is to be shipped, such request having been approved by his regimental or higher commander. Parcel post shipments will be accepted by the post office authorities, and other shipments by express or freight companies only upon presentation of the above-approved request in each individual case.

By order of the Secretary of War: PEYTON C. MARCH, Major General, Acting Chief of Staff.

MUNICIPALITIES LIKE REPUBLICS UNGRATEFUL

Must Pay Money Borrowed For New School Building And Provide For Current Expenses

SCHOOL DISTRICT BENEFITS

That municipalities, like republics, are ungrateful, sometimes to the nth degree, was demonstrated in the Prothonotary's office this week when an execution was issued against six former members of the Karthaus township school board for $1713.60 on a note held by the liquidating agents of the defunct Farmers' and Traders' bank of Clearfield. This is the second action of the kind recently taken, a previous judgment calling for $1643.67 having been issued on some time ago. These legal actions grew out of a transaction which had the citizens of Karthaus township by the ears for several years, and which resulted in the voters of the township making their public servants pay in dollars and cents for an error of judgment, so to speak, while acting in a public-spirited representative capacity.

The six men named in the judgment who are forced to pay out their good hard-earned money for advantages which the children of the township are now enjoying, composed the township school board in 1908 when the growth of their schools demanded better housing facilities. A new school building was deemed absolutely essential to the supplying of the proper educational advantages of their school children and the school board, all representative citizens and supposedly good hard-headed business men and farmers of the community, laid out their accounts to supply a suitable building. An architect was employed to prepare the plans and after same had been adopted, a budget of expenses was prepared and a tax millage laid to meet running expenses and provide for a building fund. Subsequently a contract was let for the proposed new building at a price of $5694.

Work was begun but before the building was completed the funds of the board were exhausted with some $2200 needed to complete the building. In order to provide the necessary funds members of the board came to Clearfield and gave their individual notes for the money and borrowed same from the banks, believing when the time arrived to have the obligation validated by the electors of the township the same would be done.

MEN REACHING AGE OF 21 TO GO INTO NEW DRAFT ARMY

Washington, March 29.—Prompted by the necessity of adding immediately 700,000 to the national army the senate today passed by unanimous vote the Chamberlain draft resolution after the amendment proposed by Senator New to provide for universal military training had been eliminated. The measure will draw into the army of drafted men all those who have become of age since June 5 of last year.

Fear that operation of the draft would be retarded by the universal training proposal caused the defeat of the new amendment. The vote was 26 to 36. Many of those who voted against it, however, declared themselves in favor of the principle of universal training bill as a separate measure.

According to Hot Springs gossip Jack Combs, Brooklyn's veteran pitcher, is to retire at the close of this season to devote his time to the banking business in Palestine, Texas.

SECOND "WAR EASTER" MARKED BY MANY CHANGED CONDITIONS

New York, March 30.—The United States will observe its second "War" Easter tomorrow. Two days before last Easter the declaration of war with Germany was made, and the great religious festival that followed was marked by patriotic sermons delivered in thousands of pulpits throughout the country, together with fervent prayers that the great battle for freedom and democracy might be crowned with success.

The Easter observance this year will doubtless be imbued with an even stronger intermingling of patriotic and spiritual sentiment than was the case last year. Twelve months of actual hostilities has awakened the nation to the seriousness and magnitude of the task that lies before it. Virtually every church congregation in the land has sent some of its youths to the front. In many instances the pastors themselves have quit their pulpits to enter the nation service.

The brightness and gaiety that is customarily associated with the Easter festival will be lacking to a considerable extent in the observances tomorrow. The florists report that the demand for Easter flowers is far below that of previous years, especially the demand for decoration in churches. They say they anticipated the change, owing to the war, and estimate that sales will reach hardly a half of former years.

People who usually spent large sums for flowers for house and personal ornamentation are saving their money this Easter for charity. Some churches that formerly gave orders to florists to decorate chancels, and paid some of them as much as $4,000 merely for the use of the flowers, have cut out their orders altogether this year. Years ago the custom obtained of buying the flowers outright, and then distributing them in hospitals on Easter Monday, but hospitals came to be swamped, and the dealers came to the rescue by merely renting the plants and taking them back when Easter had passed.

The wholesale florists say that such demand as there is this year runs

mostly to carnations and daisies. course, there is a stock of Easter lilies, now coming wholly from bulbs and grown here, and some all from Bermuda in bloom, as was the case some years ago.

The roses offered this year are of the brightest red, nothing solid as they go with the martial music that is to be sung. There is an almost total lack of anxiety for artistic effect in church decorations. Such garlands said to have wholly passed in England and in France. Memorial services have been ordered in many instances for American boys fallen in the war. Many owners of private cemeteries in New York and vicinity have offered the churches the use of flowers for Easter decoration. There has been little chance, therefore, for the florists to indulge in profiteering even if they had had a disposition to try it.

The war has also changed the Easter music demand this year in a radical fashion. Chords everywhere are laying back on their shelves the mildly spiritual selections of former years, and have bought in as great quantities as their transcriptions new music of the boldest and most modern type.

With the opening of the season man music ceased to come to the aid of American composers were to come in and fill the demand. Tomorrow a little music from England and France will be practically the entire supply. Demand is now met by American poets and American composers are claimed to equal any foreign supply, and to surpass it in the future it is presented in printing and performance.

Mrs. Walter L. Fullington went to DuBois today to spend Easter with relatives and friends there.

TEAM WORK COUNTS!

AN EXPERIMENT IN GROUP OWNERSHIP; OR THE FABLE OF THE PERFORMING MULE

Back in the Dark Ages of American Culture, before the French Agent had found its way to the Farm, and when the Gophers, Quakers, in our mind, Daisies still pronounced, Vandeville "vawdevil", instead of, "Yodel", there lived a Showman whose chief Asset was a performing Mule. The name of the Showman was Wage-Payer and the name of his income was, dubbed Industry.

Now, it so happened that Wage-Payer had spent a number of tedious years teaching Industry to perform certain clever Tricks such as would tend to stimulate the Consumption of chewing gum and Peanuts among the gaping Audiences, and had burned

tions of a Ford Runabout in a Field of Superstices.

"Where do you come in on the gate Receipts?" asked the cunning Agitator. To which the Muleteers responded:

"He gets the Dough and we get the Crumbs."

And so a Delegation of Wage-Earners was sent to interview Wage-Payer.

"Such a Man as is Known as an Agitator."

countless gallons of Midnight Oil studying the Diseases that Mules are Heir to so that He might keep Industry in the best of Health and Spry; for Industry, like all other Stage Artists, possessed a Temperament, which varied with the condition of His Liver.

In return for the Effort He had expended in the Education of the Mule, Wage-Payer figured that He was entitled to a Fair Share of the Income derived from Industry's Performances, but it appears that his arithmetical

calculations were at variance with the Computations made by the Squad of Husky Mule-Tenders whom Wage-Payer had hired to minister to the material Needs of Industry. (Now these Mule-Tenders, who were known as Wage-Earners, had always been content with the Wages they were getting until there appeared in their midst a Man named Agitator, who never did any Work himself but spent his valuable Time in spreading the Doctrine that the Laborer is Worthy of his "Higher."

And so Agitator took the Muleteers, of Wage-Earners, to the Box office and aroused their jealousy by pointing out to them the handsome Speculations of Wage-Payer riding in the fat Steamers with his rich "Herd."

They lost sight of the fact that his "Herd" was equally busy rolling out the silver dollars to a hungry crowd of creditors. They only had eyes for the big cake, and their bitter-sustained Wages began to assume the propo-

and at the urgent suggestion of Agitator each Delegate carried a knotted cudgel to help along the peaceful Process of Arbitration. When they proposed that they be given a larger Proportion of the Gross Receipts, Wage-Payer, who had become nettled by the increasing Expenses, threw up his hands and cried in Classic English:

"I'm sick of this job, anyway. Take the old Mule and do what you want with him. Good-by, Good Luck, God Bless You!"

Whereupon Wage-Payer tied a wet Towel about his fevered brow, tele-

"I'm Sick of This Job Anyway."

caused the Mule to count Ten in counting the Age of a Moth-eaten Octogenarian in the Audience. Whereupon the audience forgot to Hooverize in the use of Eggs and Vegetables.

But that didn't conclude the Troubles of the Mule Minders. The Extortioners began to arrive with their Accounts Due and Payable and the Wage-Earners in their Efforts to Economize cut down on Industry's Diet. Industry began to get groggy on his Pins, and after two or three performances collapsed altogether. Whereupon the Mule Minders held a conference and decided that Agitator was the only man capable of handling the Situation, so they sent for Him and asked his advice.

"The Mule's faking," responded Agitator. "He needs a good Beating."

The Wage-Earners applied Agitator's cure until their Biceps ached, and then came to the Conclusion that although Agitator was a fancy swimmer in the Sea of Theories, he needed a Pair of Water Wings when it came to practical application. There was but one Alternative left for the Wage-Earners.

"My Friends, the Mule Suffers from Malnutrition."

Either they must persuade Wage-Payer to come back on the job, or starve to death, so they pocketed their Pride and sent a hurry call for the former Chief of Mysteries.

"My Friends," announced Wage-Payer, with his Hand on Industry's pulse, "the Mule suffers from Malnutrition. He is in a serious condition, but we can pull him through if you follow my advice. Bear one Thing in mind if you would manage Industry so as to get the Best out of him: You can't skip on his Food."

"But we don't want to manage him any longer," chorused the Wage-Earners. "That's what we got you back for. We can wash him and curry him, and feed him, when we have the Food to feed him with, but we need some one to put him through his Paces and take care of the Finances."

Moral: You can't shift Scenes and run the Show at the same Time.—Industrial Conservation, New York.

WHO IS THE EMPLOYER?

Manufacturers, contractors or those who undertake the production of anything that the market demands are almost invariably considered the employers. This is erroneous; they are simply the directors of the industry and are themselves employees of those who desire the product.

These directors engage the services of other employees—manual workers, etc.—in behalf of the purchasers of the product. The purchasers are, therefore, the real employers. The directors and the workers are actually fellow-outcasts engaged in a common service.—Industrial Conservation, New York.

UNDERSTANDING EACH OTHER.

War surely pulls people together, and its effects in better understanding among business men are already so plain that if peace comes tomorrow the new co-operative measures adopted by many of our industries and trades the last six months would go far toward paving for the enormous war output to date.

All the cooperation now existing and planned between manufacturers is recognized by labor to be ineffective without its whole-hearted support, and every day is strengthening the growth of a new spirit among American work-people.—Industrial Conservation, New York.

"I Saw It In The Progress"

UNDER THE BRITISH FLAG AND THE FLAG OF DAVID YOUNG JEWS VOLUNTEER FOR SERVICE IN PALESTINE

HERD OF BRITISH TANKS IN SINAI DESERT

JEWS RECRUITS WITH BRITISH FLAG, FLAG OF DAVID AND STRIPES AND STRIPES

No event in years has so penetrated to the heart of Jewry throughout the world as the fall of Jerusalem to the British under General Sir E. M. Allenby. K. C. B. Zionism, the dream of the race, now bids fair to be realized, and that Jewish blood, too, may be shed in its cause as the price of freedom, the young Jews of the United States are rallying to the standard in numbers far in excess of anything imagined. Hundreds of young Jews have been recruited in the various local depots of the British and Canadian Recruiting Mission throughout the United States for Jewish units in the British Army for service in Palestine. The first recruit secured for these Jewish units was Joseph L. Cohen, of New York City, a graduate of Cambridge University of England, and a Fellow of Columbia University, New York. He was a member of the first contingent of 250 which left Boston for war service not long ago.

An odd feature of the swearing in of recruits for the Jewish units was the fact that they were permitted to wear their hats, according to Jewish custom in ceremonial affairs, and when in the army they will not be forced to forego the practices and observance of their faith. They are enlisting exclusively for service in the Holy Land, and will carry the Flag of David.

So enthusiastic have the young Jews become over this opportunity to fight for their own cause that many who have been turned down for enlistment because of physical disability, have demanded that they be re-examined at once. The bulk of the volunteers are English or Russian

Jews. The enthusiasm concerning this movement has not been limited to the young Jews, but in certain cities older Jews who are unable to fight have offered to supply funds to help take care of the dependents of the fighting men.

Since Gen. Allenby captured Jerusalem from the Turks, a large number of other places revered by Jew and Gentile alike have been wrested from the enemy, and with the aid of Jewish soldiers the whole of Palestine will, no doubt, be reclaimed.

A novel phase of the conquest of the Holy Land was the participation of the British tanks. Modern and ancient history were brought together in a sensational manner when a herd of these British land battle ships crossed the Sinai Desert, striking terror to the hearts of the Turks.

Keep Home Garden Fertile; Clean Out All Rubbish Each Year

IN YOUR HOME GARDEN

"Dig deep, manure well, work often." Thus Elmer the Elder, nearly 2,000 years ago, summed up gardening. His advice is good today.

Enthusiasm must be backed by solid purpose—enough of it to surmount obstacles and surmount disappointments.

The best insurance against accidents in gardening is knowing how to garden.

The garden should always be cleaned up in the autumn as soon as the crops are out of the way, and the area seeded to some green crop such as winter oats or rye. If this has not been done the dead vines, cabbage stalks and other refuse should be gathered at once and burned. This material is liable to harbor insects and contain diseases injurious to garden crops, and no chances should be taken with it.

Provide Good Drainage

If the area in the garden is not well drained this should be corrected by using tile drains spaced every 10 to 20 feet, or by open ditches, or by bedding up the soil, leaving the space between the beds for drains.

The ground should be plowed as soon as possible. If hard freezing is sure to occur after the plowing is done it does not matter if the ground is a little wet. It is particularly desirable to get the plowing done before freezing weather is past, as the alternate freezing and thawing kills hibernating insects, as well as loosening up the soil, breaking down clods and making the soil generally more loose and friable. Soil that has been plowed or spaded, moreover, will dry out and become workable sooner than that not so treated.

Lighten Heavy Soil

If the soil is at all heavy it is advisable to make an application of air-slaked lime as soon as the plowing is done. The lime should be applied at this time so as to become thoroughly mixed with the soil before the manure is applied. Manure and lime should not be applied at the same time, as the lime will cause loss of the nitrogen in the manure.

To produce satisfactory crops of vegetables the soil must be kept in a high state of fertility. It is an excellent plan to apply stable manure to the freshly plowed or spaded soil, this to be worked in either with a disk harrow, or in cases where hand labor is employed, with a hoe or rake. This should be followed later on by a surface coat of well-rotted manure, applied about the time the crops are planted.

A simple test to determine when garden soil is ready for plowing or working is to take a handful of earth from the surface and close the fingers tightly on it. If the earth compacted in this way is dry enough for cultivation it will fall apart when the hand is opened. This test is applicable only to comparatively heavy soils, but it is these which receive the most injury if they are worked when wet.

CANADA ONE STEP NEARER BEING A PROHIB STATE

Ottawa, Ont., March 30.—Canada, except for the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, will go dry at midnight tomorrow night, and at the end of the year the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors will be prohibited throughout the Dominion.

The Federal order-in-council about to come into effect will prohibit the transportation of liquor from any part of Canada into a province which has prohibitory legislation, except by permission granted under a physician's prescription, and then in minute quantities.

The order-in-council has been hailed by temperance advocates throughout the Dominion as the next best thing to total Dominion-wide prohibition. As the order remains in effect until a year after peace is declared, temperance advocates expect, in the interval, finally to win their fight for a Dominion-wide prohibition law, affecting both the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors, and are encouraged in their hope by the fact that a non-partisan government is in power in Ottawa.

It is said that Yale is the only university having a paid tennis coach, the Elis having had a professional tutor for several years.

Pitcher J. Weldon Wyckoff, who has been in and out of the big show several times, is showing some high-class twirling in practice with the Red Sox.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Helen Phillips entertained about twenty-five of her girl friends at her home on Fourth street in honor of her 14th birthday. There were games, music and dancing which were enjoyed by all. Miss Helen was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. At 10:30 the girls marched into the dining room where a delicious lunch was served. The table decorations were red, white and blue. All returned home at a late hour wishing Miss Helen many more happy birthdays.

In addition to the money needed to complete the building current expenses were met in the same way. In due course of time the matter of legalizing the obligations of the school board was put up to the voters and much to the surprise and chagrin of the school board the project was turned down. After discussion which rent the township and lined the people up into factions another election was held and again was the debt repudiated.

The battle raged with increasing fury and criminalizations and recommendations were rife, with the result that recourse was had to the law. In 1910 the contractor recovered a verdict against the school district and then in May 1913, the whole matter was threshed out before Judge Allison O. Smith and verdicts rendered against the school board for more than $3500.

The objecting taxpayers raked the point that the contract for the building was in excess of the power of the school district to borrow without a vote of the people.

The school board countered by saying that when the contract was made they had ample funds in sight to pay current expenses and the entire amount of the contract, but that outstanding orders which they did not issue and of which they had no knowledge until presented for payment took the surplus and made the deficit in both contract price and the year's running expenses.

The other side contended that the board should have had knowledge of the outstanding orders and did know the contract was in excess of the borrowing capacity of the district and would have to be authorized by the voters of the township at the polls. The case was bitterly contested, Krebs & Liveright, Bell & Hartwick and W. A. Hagerty being among the attorneys involved.

The final verdict was against the school board, the court holding them technically responsible for the entire deficit. As an evidence of the "persnickiness" of the law, the court said and it was admitted by the attorneys for the objectors that had the school board gone ahead and issued their orders regardless of whether they had the money to meet them or not the district would have been public spirited citizens who were liable, but because they wished to pay as they went and desired to keep their credit good by borrowing the money on their personal security they were individually liable and were estopped from recovering the money advanced from the school district. Accordingly each of the six members of the board will be required to go down into his jeans for seven or eight hundred dollars to pay his individual share of the money spent for the school district, regardless of the fact that the school district has long possessed and is using to the advantage of their young people the modern school room and facilities provided by the different municipalities.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Take an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel
 clean, sweet, fresh.

Buildings and vivacious—merry,
 clear, peachy skin and
 healthy complexion
 assured only by pure blood. If
 every man and woman could be
 assured to adopt the morning inside
 bath, what a gratifying change would
 take place. Instead of the thousands
 of sickly anemic-looking men, women
 and girls, with pasty or muddy
 complexions; instead of the multi-
 tude of "nerve wreckers," "rundowns,"
 "brain fags," and pessimists we should
 have a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-
 checked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking
 each morning, before breakfast, a
 glass of real hot water with a tea-
 spoonful of limestone phosphate in it.
 Limestone phosphate is a mineral
 from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels, the preventive, indigestible waste, sour
 fermentations and poisons, the
 burning, sweating and freshening
 of the alimentary canal before
 more food into the stomach.
 These subjects to sick headache, bil-
 iousness, nasty breath, rheumatism,
 skin eruptions and, particularly, those who
 are pale, sallow complexioned and who are constipated very often, are bound to obtain a quartet pound of
 limestone phosphate at the drug store.
 It will cost but a trifle, but is essential to demonstrate the quick
 appearance, awaiting those who
 practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is
 more important than outside, because
 the skin does not absorb impurities
 to contaminate the blood while the
 pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson 13.—First Quarter,
 March 31, 1918.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES

Text of Lesson, Phil. 2:1-11.—A Quarterly Review—Golden Text, Phil. 2:5
 —Commentary Prepared by Rev. D.
 M. Stearns.

Lesson I.—John prepares the way
 for Jesus, Mark 1:1-11. Golden Text, John 1:29, "Behold the Lamb of God,
 that taketh away the sin of the world." The good news concerning Jesus Christ the Son of God who loves us and washes us from our sins in his own blood, who loved me and gave himself for me, (Mark 1:1; Rev. 1:5; Gal. 2:20) is the only good news worth while.

Lesson II.—Jesus begins his work,
 Mark 1:12-20. Golden Text, "Repent ye,
 and believe the gospel." (Mark 1:15).
 The thirty years at Nazareth must be
 included in the commendation of Mk.
 1:11, as truly as Mk. 9:7 covers all his public ministry. If we are fully yielded
 he will work in us all things well
 pleasing in his sight (Heb. 13:20, 21).

Lesson III.—Jesus at work Mark
 1:21-34. Golden Text, John 9:4, "We
 must work the works of him that sent
 me, while it is day." The teachings
 and healings of this lesson were samples of his daily life during all his
 public ministry, as it is written in Acts 10:38, "God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and
 with power; who went about doing
 good, and healing all who were op-
 pressed of the devil; for God was with
 him." See also Matt. 4:23.

Lesson IV.—Jesus forgiving sin,
 Mark 2:1-12. Golden Text, Mark 2:10,
 "The son of man hath authority on earth to forgive sins." Therefore he
 is truly God for the scribes were right
 when they said, "Who can forgive sins
 but God only?" (vs. 7). It is written
 in Acts 10:43, "To him give all the
 prophets witness, that through his
 name, whosoever believeth in him shall
 receive remission of sins." See Isa.
 1:18; 48:22; Luke 24:46, 47; Acts
 13:38, 39.

Lesson V.—Jesus Lord of the Sab-
 bath, Mark 2:23 to 3:6. Golden Text,
 Mark 2:28, "The Son of Man is Lord
 even of the Sabbath." The great deceiver and liar has led men to believe
 that we must in some way by good
 deeds win the favor of God, hence all
 man's efforts to be righteous. The truth
 of God is that he loves the world, that Christ Jesus came into the world to
 save sinners, that no sacrifice or Sabbath-keeping can avail till we are for-
 given.

Lesson VI.—Jesus chooses the
 twelve, Mark 3:7-14. Golden Text, Mark
 3:14, "He appointed twelve, that they might be with him, and that he might
 send them forth to preach." The next
 verse says that they were to heal sickness and cast out demons, for preaching without some manifestation of the power of God may be only vain talk.

Lesson VII.—Jesus teaching by para-
 bles, Mark 4:1-20. Golden Text, Gal.
 3:7, "Be not deceived; God is not
 mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth,
 that shall he also reap." When they
 would not receive him, nor his kingdom, then he began to speak in para-
 bles, and thus to declare how things
 would be during this age of his rejection.
 Our great work is to be his men-
 sengers with his message, sowing the
 seed of his word, with the assurance
 that it will always accomplish his
 pleasure.

Lesson VIII.—The mystery of the
 kingdom, Mark 4:21-34. Golden Text,
 Isa. 11:9, "The earth shall be full of
 the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters
 cover the sea." The parables of this
 lesson, and more fully the seven para-
 bles of Matt. 13, give no encouragement to the thought that we are here
 to win the world to Christ, which can-
 not be done in this age. Yet Mark 14:21; Isa. 11:9 and Heb. 2:14, shall be
 truly and literally fulfilled in the next
 age through Israel.

Lesson IX.—Jesus bringing peace,
 Mark 4:35 to 5:20. Golden Text, Ps.
 124:3, "Jehovah hath done great things
 for us; whereof we are glad." Stilling
 the storm and healing the demoniac
 show his power over the devil and his
 works, and when he shall come in his
 glory he will bind the devil in the pit
 for a thousand years, and he, the son
 of David, will be King of Israel, King
 of Kings and Lord of Lords, one King
 over all the earth.

Lesson X.—Jesus restoring life and
 health, Mark 5:21-43. Golden Text,
 Matt. 8:17, "Himself took our infirmi-
 ties, and bare our diseases." When
 the kingdom shall have fully come
 there shall be on this earth no more
 death, neither sorrow, nor crying,
 neither shall there be any more pain
 (Rev. 21:4).

Lesson XI.—Jesus sending forth the
 twelve, Mark 6:1-13. Golden Text,
 Matt. 10:8, "Freely ye receive, freely
 give." Whether it was the twelve or
 the seventy, he sent them forth in his
 name, clothed with his power, to tell
 the good news of the kingdom, and to
 heal all manner of sickness, and even
 to raise the dead, but he warned them
 that they would be hated, and perse-
 cuted and perhaps killed for his sake.

Lesson XII.—Jesus ministering to
 the multitude, Mark 6:32-56. Golden Text, Matt. 9:38, "The Son of Man
 came not to be ministered unto but to
 minister and to give his life a ransom
 for many." He wants his redeemed on
 earth to let him live his life in us, and
 use us to make him known to others.

W. R. HUMPHREYS ASKS COUNTY SUPERINTENDENCY

W. R. Humphreys of Grampian is a
 candidate for county superintendent
 of public schools in Clearfield county.
 Mr. Humphreys is one of the best
 known school teachers in the county.
 He has had an experience of many
 years in the profession. He was assistant principal of the Curwensville
 school, principal of the Market street
 school in Clearfield, principal of the Lumber City schools and principal of
 the Grampian schools.

He also taught school four terms
 in Lawrence township. For ten years
 he conducted a summer school at Grampian. At the election of county
 superintendent four years ago Mr.
 Humphreys was defeated by a very small
 margin. The directors will elect a superintendent on April 9.

LADIES! DARKEN

YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur
 Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for
 restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's
 time. She used it to keep her hair
 beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that
 dull, faded or streaked appearance,
 this simple mixture was applied with
 wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and
 out of date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of
 "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Com-
 pound" you will get this famous old
 preparation, improved by the addition
 of other ingredients which can be de-
 pended upon to restore natural color
 and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist
 says it darkens the hair so naturally
 and evenly that nobody can tell it has
 been applied. You simply dampen a
 sponge or soft brush with it and draw
 this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the
 gray hair disappears, and after an-
 other application or two, it becomes
 beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Com-
 pound is a delightful toilet requisite
 for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended
 for the cure, mitigation or prevention
 of disease.

 preciated by followers of all athletic

HUN ARMIES PREPARING DEFENSES TO HOLD OFF EXPECTED ALLIED ATTACK

APPOINTMENT OF FOCH AS COMMANDER A BIG MOVE

LITTLE CHANGE IN GENERAL LINEUP AS ALLIES LAY PLANS FOR FIGHT UNDER CENTRAL LEADERSHIP

BAKER'S MISSION IS APPARENT

By Capt. D. Great
United Press Staff Correspondent
The Germans are digging in. This information was contained today in a United Press dispatch from William Phillip Simms.

While Simms did not say how extensive were the German entrenchment operations this may be a tactical acknowledgment by Himmler that for the present at least the enemy drive is "through." Although it may indicate that the Germans in meeting he expected allied counter attacks will try to force General Foch's army to the renewal of trench warfare rather than to try to conclude the battle in the open—which the Germans themselves have stated they would prefer.

Simms told of the extension of the fighting front further to the north—as Cite-Saint-Auguste, a mile north of Lens, approaching Luce. The previous northern point of extensive bombardment was at Avion, a mile south of Lens. An extreme northern flank of the German infantry bombarded Acheville, 2 1/2 miles southeast.

A heavy German concentration on the Verdun front was reported by a correspondent of the Amsterdam Handelsblad who personally visited that sector. Shortly after the start of the drive the German military officials publicly announced that an offensive of an even greater scale would be made on "other fronts." This intimation may mean Verdun and in Italy.

Haig today admitted a short retirement at Demuin and Mezieres south of the Somme. He declared the British took a number of prisoners in a counter attack at the latter place. North of the Somme which bisects the battle front Haig characterized all the operations of the past week as "local attacks."

By Wm. Phillip Simms
With the British Army in the Field March 30.—The first phase of the Central Powers' great offensive is over I believe, that the second phase will begin as soon as Himmler's battered hosts can be relieved and gun-brought up. However it cannot be doubted that the situation is materially unchanged throughout the British lines this morning while the Germans like frightened bulls—digging passage overland checked—are digging in like mad in places. At midnight enemy attacks at Cite-Saint-Auguste broke down. Cite-Saint-Auguste is about a mile due north of Lens near Hill 70, and at some points east and south of Luce.

By Fred S. Ferguson
With the American Army in France March 29.—Sergeant Major Charles Taft, son of former President Taft, has been recommended for a commission it was learned today. The recommendation made through the routine channels reached the chief of staff of a certain corps. It was said that although Taft is still under age he has served a year and shown qualities warranting a commission.

Secretary Baker reviewed the general headquarters and spent the entire day there today. The Secretary walked into a garage and asked the chauffeurs how they were "getting on." After he had left one of them asked who the "inquisitive civilian" was.

Five American artillerymen crossed No Man's Land rushing a dug-out in which were six Germans. Two of them parleyed long enough to exchange shots and are believed to have been wounded. The raiders returned to the American trenches unharmed through a German barrage. Americans on the Toul front in a silent raid without artillery preparation took four German prisoners last night. Artillery was very heavy on this front during the night.

By United Press
London, March 30.—"We were pressed back at Demuin and Mezieres south of the Somme but at the latter village we counter attacked and took a number of prisoners," Field Marshal Haig said.

"Only local action has taken place north of the Somme during the past week. Our cavalry has fought with great gallantry both mounted and unmounted, and have repulsed the enemy with heavy losses in numerous engagements. At Demuin the enemy attempts to take the village broke down after sharp fighting throughout the afternoon."

Washington, March 30.—That the appointment of General Foch as inter-allied generalissimo on the western front was the result of the direct urging of President Wilson advocated in person by Secretary of War Baker was the strong conviction of American officers today. Under the great allied armies under Foch it will mean the policy of "blow for blow" is certain. American officers are delighted with Foch's elevation, which has been advocated by this country ever since the super-war council plans were broadened in the need of greater cooperation and centralization. Foch's appointment coming so soon after Secretary Baker's conference with Lloyd George and the French officials convince American officers that Baker went abroad with President Wilson's request for a central command.

THE FRENCH REPORT

Paris, March 30.—The battle was resumed with violence last night. We progressed 25 miles at Moreuil and beyond Lassigny the French war office reported today. Our troops supported by continually arriving reserves are repulsing the enemy powerful assaults. Despite the bad weather French aviators continued their offensive the statement said. About 3,000 tons of projectiles have been dropped on the Noyon, Guisanc and Ham sectors. Three German machines have been brought down.

Moreuil is an important city about nine miles northwest of Montdidier in the direction of Amiens.

BOYS IN FRANCE MUST ORDER THE ARTICLES WANTED

The Post Office Department authorizes the statement that at an early date an order will be issued to the postmasters throughout the country instructing them to receive no parcel post shipments for delivery to members of the American Expeditionary Forces abroad unless the articles offered have been requested by the individual to whom they are to be shipped and approved by his regimental or higher commander.

In the meantime, until the above-mentioned order is issued, such articles as are offered for shipment by parcel post to our forces abroad will be accepted, it being the purpose of the Post Office Department to have the order go into effect simultaneously in every post office in the United States.

War Department Bulletin

The War Department today authorized the publication of the following bulletin:

In future shipments of any articles to members of the American Expeditionary Forces abroad will be limited to those articles which have been requested by the individual to whom same is to be shipped, such request having been approved by his regimental or higher commander. Parcel post shipments will be accepted by the post office authorities, and other shipments by express or freight companies only upon presentation of the above-approved request in each individual case.

HONOR PERICORD BY PUTTING UP A NEW EMBLEM

"Ay! Tear that tattered emblem down!"

Do not let it longer wave on high.

While we are talking about pro-Germans, German spies and flag desecrators, do not let us overlook the fact that many people or business places throughout Clearfield are allowing tattered and torn old flags to remain flapping in the breeze like scare-crows in front of their stores and other business places. Of course no disrespect is intended—but these remnants give all the appearance of a total lack of patriotism.

We are soon to be visited by a brave man, to whom the flag of his nation is an emblem to be proud of at all times and for the protection and preservation of which he shed his life-blood many times, and it strikes us that Clearfield people should show the true American spirit by "tearing down each tattered ensign," or words to that effect, and in its place put up a brand new American flag. It would be patriotic and should serve as an additional inspiration to the visitor on his coming and our people for all time.

By all means take down your tattered flag before the coming of Lieut. Pericord on April 4th. The fragments of all flags should be burned when taken down. The flag is not a rag to be left to rot in the breeze nor its fragments or any part of it to be left lie in the dirt and rubbish.

MUNICIPALITIES LIKE REPUBLICS UNGRATEFUL

Must Pay Money Borrowed For New School Building And Provide For Current Expenses

SCHOOL DISTRICT BENEFITS

That municipalities, like republics, are ungrateful, sometimes to the nth degree, was demonstrated in the Prothonotary's office this week when an execution was issued against six former members of the Karthaus township school board for $1713.60 on a note held by the liquidating agents of the defunct Farmers' and Traders' bank of Clearfield. This is the second action of the kind recently taken, a previous judgment calling for $1643.67 having been issued on some time ago. These legal actions grew out of a transaction which had the citizens of Karthaus township by the ears for several years, and which resulted in the voters of the township making their public servants pay in dollars and cents for an error of judgment, so to speak, while acting in a public-spirited representative capacity.

The six men named in the judgment who are forced to pay out their good hard-earned money for advantages which the children of the township are now enjoying, composed the township school board in 1908 when the growth of their schools demanded better housing facilities. A new school building was deemed absolutely essential to the supplying of the proper educational advantages of their school children and the school board, all representative citizens and supposedly good hard-headed business men and farmers of the community, laid out their accounts to supply a suitable building. An architect was employed to prepare the plans and after same had been adopted, a budget of expenses was prepared and a tax millage laid to meet running expenses and provide for a building fund. Subsequently a contract was let for the proposed new building at a price of $5694.

Work was begun but before the building was completed the funds of the board were exhausted with some $2200 needed to complete paying the contract price for the building. In order to provide the necessary funds members of the board came to Clearfield and gave their individual notes for the money and borrowed same from the banks, believing when the time arrived to have the obligation validated by the electors of the township the same would be done.

MEN REACHING AGE OF 21 TO GO INTO NEW DRAFT ARMY

Washington, March 29.—Prompted by the necessity of adding immediately 700,000 to the national army the senate today passed by unanimous vote the Chamberlain draft resolution after the amendment proposed by Senator New to provide for universal military training had been eliminated. The measure will draw into the army of drafted men all those who have become of age since June 5 of last year.

Fear that operation of the draft would be retarded by the universal training proposal caused the defeat of the new amendment. The vote was 26 to 36. Many of those who voted against it, however, declared themselves in favor of the principle of universal training bill as a separate measure.

SECOND "WAR EASTER" MARKED BY MANY CHANGED CONDITIONS

New York, March 30.—The United States will observe its second "War" Easter tomorrow. Two days before last Easter the declaration of war with Germany was made, and the great religious festival that followed was marked by patriotic sermons delivered in thousands of pulpits throughout the country, together with fervent prayers that the great battle for freedom and democracy might be crowned with success.

The Easter observance this year will doubtless be imbued with an even stronger intermingling of patriotic and spiritual sentiment than was the case last year. Twelve months of actual hostilities has awakened the nation to the seriousness and magnitude of the task that lies before it. Virtually every church congregation in the land has sent some of its youths to the front. In many instances the pastors themselves have quit their pulpits to enter the nation service.

The brightness and gaiety that is customarily associated with the Easter festival will be lacking to a considerable extent in the observances tomorrow. The florists report that the demand for Easter flowers is far below that of previous years, especially the demand for decoration in churches. They say they anticipated the change, owing to the war, and estimate that sales will reach hardly a half of former years.

People who usually spent large sums for flowers for house and personal ornamentation are saving their money this Easter for charity. Some churches that formerly gave orders to florists to decorate chancels, and paid some of them as much as $4,000 merely for the use of the flowers, have cut out their orders altogether this year. Years ago the custom obtained of buying the flowers outright, and then distributing them in hospitals on Easter Monday, but hospitals came to be swamped, and the dealers came to the rescue by merely renting the plants and taking them back when Easter had passed.

The wholesale florists say that such demand as there is this year runs

mostly to carnations and daisies. course, there is a stock of Easter lilies, now coming wholly from bulbs in bulbs and grown here, and some all from Bermuda in bloom, as was the case some years ago.

The roses offered this year are of the brightest red, nothing solid as they go with the martial music that is to be sung. There is an almost total lack of anxiety for artistic effect in church decorations. Such garlands said to have wholly passed in England and in France. Memorial services have been ordered in many instances for American boys fallen in the war. Many owners of private cemeteries in New York and vicinity have offered the churches the use of flowers for Easter decoration. There has been little chance, therefore, for the florists to indulge in profiteering even if they had had a disposition to try it.

The war has also changed the Easter music demand this year in a radical fashion. Chords everywhere are laying back on their shelves, the mildly spiritual selections of former years, and have bought in as great quantities as their transcriptions new music of the boldest and most modern.

With the opening of the season man music ceased to come to the aid of American composers were to come in and fill the demand. Tomorrow a little music from England and France will be practically the entire supply. Demand is now met by American poets and American composers are claimed to equal any foreign supply, and to surpass it in the future it is presented in printing and performance.

Mrs. Walter L. Fullington went to DuBois today to spend Easter with relatives and friends there.

MASON'S
DAILY
WAR
REVIEW

By J. W. T. Mason
(Written for the United Press)

New York, March 30.—As far as can be seen, the combat in the west has definitely turned in favor of the Allies, with the Germans beginning to engage in sullen defensive tactics at important strategic points.

The German front is now entangled in numerous formations, due to von Hindenburg's failure to keep his formations advancing at a consistent speed. The precarious situation facing out-run Germany's ability to hold a sufficiently large permanent army to protect the new battle line is beginning to face von Hindenburg. Even if the Allies do not develop a major counter-attack, a re-advance of the Germans may be forced by a series of local assaults, giving von Hindenburg no rest at any part of his unwieldy front.

When the present drive began, the German line from Arras to Croisne measured about 85 miles. The battle front between the same points is about 120 miles. Each additional means von Hindenburg must employ 6,000 soldiers for defensive purposes. If, therefore, the attempt to retrench their positions permanently they must increase their trench garrisons by about two hundred thousand men, and the resources to make good the losses to which this force is subjected.

Was this same problem that confronted the Germans to move back to the Hindenburg line last March and then shorten their front. At that time, they had a somewhat less lengthy front to defend between Arras and Croisne than now. The old difficulty of man-power has therefore been reversed in Hindenburg in an even more serious form than previously.

Von Hindenburg must now accept the fact that the present engagements will not result in the decisive defeat of the Anglo-French forces. The Germans, therefore, will shortly be compelled to confess that the lengthening of their permanent front by 35 miles has not had sufficient compensating results. Thereafter, the possibility of a strategic retreat back perhaps to the old Hindenburg line will be the ghost at the council table of the German general staff.

NEWS

Read the editorial opinion entitled "Our Private Wires" in the next column. It will give you some outline on the wild rumor stuff that rushes about from mouth to mouth and bulletin board to bulletin board in these enlivened days. The reputable news papers handle only the reasonably certain news. The Chicago Tribune warns against this sort of hysteria.

We follow suit. The Progress gives you all the important news, vouches for by the reliable press associations. OUR EASTER PAGE

For a long time we have been trying to get the churches of Clearfield to understand that the columns of The Progress are open to them for announcements of all kinds of religious services without charge and there is nothing that would please us better than to have every church use our paper on Saturday for announcing their services. Many ministers and church workers have been appreciative of this service and have availed themselves of the free advertising each Saturday. Others have disregarded our invitation to them to use space for which the merchant gladly pays. Still others have used the space but have not worked in harmony with us on it. We have repeatedly requested that church notices be handed us already written up and that they be handed to us as early in the morning as possible and still we have within our city limits an occasional minister who calls us on the phone late in the afternoon, tells us how busy he is (forgetting how busy we are) and by the tone of his conversation infers that he is conferring a favor by letting us in on the theme of his Sunday morning sermon.

This is the day before Easter and probably not an appropriate time to scold our clerical friends but preaching is a business and the fellow who is not interested enough in his Sunday attendance to use every available means of attracting people to his church is certainly not taking care of his job and it behooves his parishioners to see that he gets on the job on Saturday mornings as well as Sunday mornings.

OUR PRIVATE WIRES

(Chicago Tribune)

Some months ago the report that a high official, a man very close to the President, had been convicted of treason and secretly executed, sprang apparently from nowhere and spread over the country. It was not carried by any newspaper. It came over private wires of brokers and business houses, and was solemnly vouched for as true.

The vicious rumor was spread by the newspaper and this is not the first time that rumors of gossip spread abroad. In most cases the rumors are comparatively harmless, as in the case of the worn aloft on Monday that the Crown Prince had been captured and that great masses of German troops had been captured.

We would warn the public against taking "the private wire" as a reliable or even plausible source of news about the war. It is the village gossip and marplot raised to the nth power and places no check upon nonsense. We suggest also it be compared to the regular news service of the press, when the reader is inclined to abuse the latter for inaccuracy or irresponsibility. Probably only news paper men and psychologists know how difficult is the work of verifying news, weeding out rumor and reporting facts. But the newspaper, the must often fail, at least has a highly developed organization, trained and experienced. Some idea of what it accomplishes for the reliable information of readers can be gained by comparing its product to the rumors that come with solemn claims of authentication over the private wires, in private letters or from other amateur sources of alleged news.

LEBANON SAUSAGES EATEN UP WHOLE
BY LOCAL FIVE

Last night's victory for the local basket tossers from the buff brick institution of learning at the east end of the Market Street bridge closed the '17-'18 season.

The boys from the land of sauer kraut and speck, Lebanon hallogans, pretzels, et al., representing the Reading High School, could not repeat last year's stunt and were on the short end of the score when the timer's whistle blew for the last time. Final count 43-34.

As compared with the really thrilling game of last year between these two teams last night's game was not quite up to par. Neither team displayed the same pep though the locals had a shade the better of the visitors on the passing game.

The first half looked as if there was going to be a real fight and the locals were only leading by five points when the half closed. Pooler, of course, was most always sticking around waiting for someone to toss him a long one. This accounts for the 12 points which are chalked up to his credit on the box score. When the second half got nicely under way the Reading boys got next to Pooler and there were two men playing him most of the time—not openly and against the rules, but they had had too much Pooler in the first half.

Pooler had it very much on his opponents, Nyquist and Baumenier, when it came to chicken shooting, he getting 9 good ones out of 15 chances, while the combined efforts of the aforesaid Readingites could only muster 8 good ones out of 20 shots.

Nyquist and Krebs of the visitors were the stellar 2-point shooters for the visitors and together they amassed 20 points and had Nyquist had the ring properly located when shooting fouls the scoring might have been different.

It was a good clean game though and everyone enjoyed it. Reading played a clean, sportsmanlike game and left a very good impression on the crowd.

The line-up:
Clearfield F. Nyquist
Pooler F. Baumenier
Dowler F. Sailer
Fulton C. Abrams
Butler G. Krebs
Robison G.

This makes the second year for the Easter Page, a feature which we hope would further the spirit of the Resurrection and the glad tidings of a Risen Christ, but we find many choir masters lukewarm on their Easter service though our experience has been that entertainments for which a charge is made are the subject of much interest and every string and whim is used to get the program on the front page of The Progress without paying for an advertisement.

Edwin, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Carr, of Turapita avenue is seriously ill.

Few Drops on a Corn or Callus

Instantly stops pain and they lift right off with fingers.

This tiny bottle holds the wonder of wonders. It contains an almost magical drug called freezone. It is a compound made from ether.

Apply a few drops of this freezone upon a tender, itching corn or a hardened callus. Instantly the soreness disappears, and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you just lift it off with the fingers. It doesn't hurt one particle.

You feel no pain or soreness when applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin.

Ask in any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. This will cost but a few cents but will positively rid your poor, suffering feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, or the tough calluses on bottom of feet.

Women! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn ache twice.

Petrograd, March 30.—The most significant changes in the relations between Russia and the allies apparently are working out. Simultaneously with the return of the allied diplomats Bolshevik supporters indicate the modification of their program to point somewhat approaching the Allies. We want to be friendly with Russia, the Serbian envoy declares here. "There is surely no question of any aggressive plan by England or any other of the Allies against Russia," declared French Minister Mutan. War Minister Trotsky is among the strong supporters favoring a change. The American consul at Moscow has informed the government that the United States is willing to enter business relations with Russia.

TWO BIG MEETINGS TO BE HELD HERE
NEXT THURSDAY

At a meeting of the Speaker's Bureau of the Committee of Public Safety last evening arrangements were made for the patriotic meetings to be held here next Thursday evening April 4th, which will be addressed by Lieut. Pericord, of the French army and Senator Ernest L. Tustin, of Philadelphia.

In order to accommodate the crowd who will desire to hear the distinguished French soldier the Committee decided on two meetings, no single auditorium in the town being large enough to accommodate the crowd.

Accordingly meetings will be held in the High School auditorium and Trinity Methodist church and every person in the town and vicinity is urged to attend one or the other of these meetings. Both meetings will start at 7:45 o'clock and both speakers will speak at each meeting.

Lieutenant Pericord and Senator Tustin will come from Bellefonte to Clearfield and unless the committee decides to bring them here overland by automobile they will arrive on the 6:35 Pennsylvania train. The meetings will be presided over by Capt. A. H. Woodward and H. B. Powell.

In addition to the speaking pleasing musical programs will also be carried out at both places.

Further details and the completed program will be given in Monday night's Progress.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to clog the entire system. When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have

TEAM WORK COUNTS!

AN EXPERIMENT IN GROUP OWNERSHIP; OR THE FABLE OF THE PERFORMING MULE

Back in the Dark Ages of American Culture, before the French Agent had found its way to the Farm, and when the Goshawk Coasters in our mind's eye still pronounced "Vandevel" "vaw-davil," instead of "Yandevel," there lived a Showman whose chief Asset was a performing Mule. The name of the Showman was Wage-Payer and the name of his income was dubbed Industry.

Now, it so happened that Wage-Payer had spent a number of tedious years teaching Industry to perform certain clever tricks such as would tend to stimulate the Consumption of chewing gum and Peanuts among the gaping Audiences, and had burned

tions of a Ford Runabout in a Field of Superstices.

"Where do you come in on the gate Receipts?" asked the cunning Agitator. To which the Muleteers responded:

"He gets the Dough and we get the Crumbs."

And so a Delegation of Wage-Earners was sent to interview Wage-Payer.

"Such a Man as is Known as an Agitator."

and at the urgent suggestion of Agitator each Delegate carried a knotted cudgel to help along the peaceful Process of Arbitration. When they proposed that they be given a larger Proportion of the Gross Receipts, Wage-Payer, who had become nettled by the countless gallons of Midnight Oil studying the Diseases that Mules are Heir to so that He might keep Industry in the best of Health and Spirit; for Industry, like all other Stage Artists, possessed a Temperament which varied with the condition of his Liver.

In return for the Effort He had expended in the Education of the Mule, Wage-Payer figured that He was entitled to a Fair Share of the Income derived from Industry's Performances, but it appears that his arithmetical

calculations were at variance with the Computations made by the Squad of Husky Mule-Tenders whom Wage-Payer had hired to minister to the material Needs of Industry. (Now these Mule-Tenders, who were known as Wage-Earners, had always been content with the Wages they were getting until there appeared in their midst a Man named Agitator, who never did any Work himself but spent his valuable Time in spreading the Doctrine that the Laborer is Worthy of his "Higher."

And so Agitator took the Muleteers, or Wage-Earners, to the Box office and aroused their jealousy by pointing out to them the glabrous Speculations of Wage-Payer riding in the fat Steamers with his rich "Herd." They lost sight of the fact that his South paw was equally busy rolling out the silver dollars to a hungry crowd of creditors. They only had eyes for the big take, and their bitter-sustained Wages began to assume the propor-

increasing Expenses, threw up his hands and cried in Classic English:

"I'm sick of this job, anyway. Take the old Mule and do what you want with him. Good-by, Good Luck, God Bless You!"

Whereupon Wage-Payer tied a wet Towel about his fevered brow, telephoned for a nerve Specialist, and went to bed for a Rest. Meanwhile, the Wage-Earners, somewhat Panicked by the unexplained turn of Events, set about getting Industry through us. Pass over the Muleteers' Performances, and never as a result of the Pedagogical they put their signals mixed and caused the Mule to count Ten in counting the Age of a Moth-eaten Octogenarian in the Audience. Whereupon the audience forgot to Hooverize in the use of Eggs and Vegetables.

But that didn't conclude the Troubles of the Mule Minders. The Extortioners began to arrive with their Accounts Due and Payable and the Wage-Earners in their Efforts to Economize cut down on Industry's Diet. Industry began to get groggy on his Pins, and after two or three performances collapsed altogether. Whereupon the Mule Minders held a conference and decided that Agitator was the only man capable of handling the Situation, so they sent for Him and asked his advice.

"The Mule's faking," responded Agitator. "He needs a good Beating."

The Wage-Earners applied Agitator's cure until their Biceps ached, and then came to the Conclusion that although Agitator was a fancy Swimmer in the Sea of Theories, he needed a Pair of Water Wings when it came to practical application. There was but one Alternative left for the Wage-Earners.

"My Friends, the Mule Suffers from Malnutrition."

Either they must persuade Wage-Payer to come back on the job, or starve to death, so they pocketed their Pride and sent a hurry call for the former Chief of Mysteries.

"My Friends," announced Wage-Payer, with his Hand on Industry's pulse, "the Mule suffers from Malnutrition. He is in a serious condition, but we can pull him through if you follow my advice. Bear one Thing in mind if you would manage Industry so as to get the Best out of him: You can't skip on his Food."

"But we don't want to manage him any longer," chorused the Wage-Earners. "That's what we got you back for. We can wash him and curry him, and feed him, when we have the Food to feed him with, but we need some one to put him through his Paces and take care of the Finances."

Moral: You can't shift Scenes and run the Show at the same Time.—Industrial Conservation, New York.

WHO IS THE EMPLOYER?

Manufacturers, contractors or those who undertake the production of anything that the market demands are almost invariably considered the employers. This is erroneous; they are simply the directors of the industry and are themselves employees of those who desire the product.

These directors engage the services of other employees—manual workers, etc.—in behalf of the purchasers of the product. The purchasers are, therefore, the real employers. The directors and the workers are actually fellow-outcasts engaged in a common service.—Industrial Conservation, New York.

UNDERSTANDING EACH OTHER.

War surely pulls people together, and its effects in better understanding among business men are already so plain that if peace comes tomorrow the new co-operative measures adopted by many of our industries and trades the last six months would go far toward paving for the enormous war output to date.

All the cooperation now existing and planned between manufacturers is recognized by labor to be ineffective without its whole-hearted support, and every day is strengthening the growth of a new spirit among American work-people.—Industrial Conservation, New York.

UNDER THE BRITISH FLAG AND THE FLAG OF DAVID YOUNG JEWS VOLUNTEER FOR SERVICE IN PALESTINE

HERD OF BRITISH TANKS IN SINAI DESERT

JEWS RECRUITS WITH BRITISH FLAG, FLAG OF DAVID AND STRIPES AND STRIPES

No event in years has so penetrated to the heart of Jewry throughout the world as the fall of Jerusalem to the British under General Sir E. M. Allenby. K. C. B. Zionism, the dream of the race, now bids fair to be realized, and that Jewish blood, too, may be shed in its cause as the price of freedom, the young Jews of the United States are rallying to the standard in numbers far in excess of anything imagined. Hundreds of young Jews have been recruited in the various local depots of the British and Canadian Recruiting Mission throughout the United States for Jewish units in the British Army for service in Palestine. The first recruit secured for these Jewish units was Joseph L. Cohen, of New York City, a graduate of Cambridge University of England, and a Fellow of Columbia University, New York. He was a member of the first contingent of 250 which left Boston for war service not long ago.

An odd feature of the swearing in of recruits for the Jewish units was the fact that they were permitted to wear their hats, according to Jewish custom in ceremonial affairs, and when in the army they will not be forced to forego the practices and observance of their faith. They are enlisting exclusively for service in the Holy Land, and will carry the Flag of David.

So enthusiastic have the young Jews become over this opportunity to fight for their own cause that many who have been turned down for enlistment because of physical disability, have demanded that they be re-examined at once. The bulk of the volunteers are English or Russian

IN YOUR HOME GARDEN

"Dig deep, manure well, work often." Thus Elmer the Elder, nearly 2,000 years ago, summed up gardening. His advice is good today.

Enthusiasm must be backed by solid purpose—enough of it to surmount obstacles and surmount disappointments.

The best insurance against accidents in gardening is knowing how to garden.

The garden should always be cleaned up in the autumn as soon as the crops are out of the way, and the area seeded to some green crop such as winter oats or rye. If this has not been done the dead vines, cabbage stalks and other refuse should be gathered at once and burned. This material is liable to harbor insects and contain diseases injurious to garden crops, and no chances should be taken with it.

Provide Good Drainage

If the area in the garden is not well drained this should be corrected by using tile drains spaced every 10 to 20 feet, or by open ditches, or by bedding up the soil, leaving the space between the beds for drains.

The ground should be plowed as soon as possible. If hard freezing is sure to occur after the plowing is done it does not matter if the ground is a little wet. It is particularly desirable to get the plowing done before freezing weather is past, as the alternate freezing and thawing kills hibernating insects, as well as loosening up the soil, breaking down clods and making the soil generally more loose and friable. Soil that has been plowed or spaded, moreover, will dry out and become workable sooner than that not so treated.

Lighten Heavy Soil

If the soil is at all heavy it is advisable to make an application of air-slaked lime as soon as the plowing is done. The lime should be applied at this time so as to become thoroughly mixed with the soil before the manure is applied. Manure and lime should not be applied at the same time, as the lime will cause loss of the nitrogen in the manure.

To produce satisfactory crops of vegetables the soil must be kept in a high state of fertility. It is an excellent plan to apply stable manure to the freshly plowed or spaded soil, this to be worked in either with a disk harrow, or in cases where hand labor is employed, with a hoe or rake. This should be followed later on by a surface coat of well-rotted manure, applied about the time the crops are planted.

A simple test to determine when garden soil is ready for plowing or working is to take a handful of earth from the surface and close the fingers tightly on it. If the earth compacted in this way is dry enough for cultivation it will fall apart when the hand is opened. This test is applicable only to comparatively heavy soils, but it is these which receive the most injury if they are worked when wet.

CANADA ONE STEP NEARER BEING A PROHIB STATE

Ottawa, Ont., March 30.—Canada, except for the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, will go dry at midnight tomorrow night, and at the end of the year the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors will be prohibited throughout the Dominion.

The Federal order-in-council about to come into effect will prohibit the transportation of liquor from any part of Canada into a province which has prohibitory legislation, except by permission granted under a physician's prescription, and then in minute quantities.

The order-in-council has been hailed by temperance advocates throughout the Dominion as the next best thing to total Dominion-wide prohibition. As the order remains in effect until a year after peace is declared, temperance advocates expect, in the interval, finally to win their fight for a Dominion-wide prohibition law, affecting both the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors, and are encouraged in their hope by the fact that a non-partisan government is in power in Ottawa.

It is said that Yale is the only university having a paid tennis coach, the Elis having had a professional tutor for several years.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Helen Phillips entertained about twenty-five of her girl friends at her home on Fourth street in honor of her 14th birthday. There were games, music and dancing which were enjoyed by all. Miss Helen was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. At 10:30 the girls marched into the dining room where a delicious lunch was served. The table decorations were red, white and blue. All returned home at a late hour wishing Miss Helen many more happy birthdays.

In addition to the money needed to complete the building current expenses were met in the same way. In due course of time the matter of legalizing the obligations of the school board was put up to the voters and much to the surprise and chagrin of the school board the project was turned down. After discussion which rent the township and lined the people up into factions another election was held and again was the debt repudiated.

The battle raged with increasing fury and criminalizations and recriminations were rife, with the result that recourse was had to the law. In 1910 the contractor recovered a verdict against the school district and then in May 1913, the whole matter was threshed out before Judge Allison O. Smith and verdicts rendered against the school board for more than $3500.

The objecting taxpayers raked the point that the contract for the building was in excess of the power of the school district to borrow without a vote of the people.

The school board countered by saying that when the contract was made they had ample funds in sight to pay current expenses and the entire amount of the contract, but that outstanding orders which they did not issue and of which they had no knowledge until presented for payment took the surplus and made the deficit in both contract price and the year's running expenses.

The other side contended that the board should have had knowledge of the outstanding orders and did know the contract was in excess of the borrowing capacity of the district and would have to be authorized by the voters of the township at the polls. The case was bitterly contested, Krebs & Liveright, Bell & Hartwick and W. A. Hagerty being among the attorneys involved.

The final verdict was against the school board, the court holding them technically responsible for the entire deficit. As an evidence of the "persnickiness" of the law, the court said and it was admitted by the attorneys for the objectors that had the school board gone ahead and issued their orders regardless of whether they had the money to meet them or not the district would have been public spirited citizens who were liable, but because they wished to pay as they went and desired to keep their credit good by borrowing the money on their personal security they were individually liable and were estopped from recovering the money advanced from the school district. Accordingly each of the six members of the board will be required to go down into his jeans for seven or eight hundred dollars to pay his individual share of the money spent for the school district, regardless of the fact that the school district has long possessed and is using to the advantage of their young people the modern school room and facilities provided by the different municipalities.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Take an inside bath, before breakfast
 fast helps us look and feel
 clean, sweet, fresh.

Buildings and vivacious—merry,
 clear, peachy skin and a healthy complexion
 assured only by pure blood. If
 every man and woman could be
 assured to adopt the morning inside
 bath, what a gratifying change would
 take place. Instead of the thousands
 of sickly anemic-looking men, women
 and girls, with pasty or muddy
 complexions; instead of the multi-
 tude of "nerve wreckers," "rundowns,"
 "brain fags," and pessimists we should
 have a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-
 checked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking
 each morning, before breakfast, a
 glass of real hot water with a tea-
 spoonful of limestone phosphate in it.
 Limestone phosphate is a natural
 mineral from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels, the pre-
 ventive, indigestible waste, sour
 fermentations and poisons, the
 burning, sweating and freshening
 of the alimentary canal before
 more food into the stomach.
 These subjects, to sick headache, bil-
 iousness, nasty breath, rheumatism,
 skin eruptions, and particularly those who
 are pale, pallid, sallow complexioned
 and are constipated very often, are
 bound to obtain a quartet, pound of
 limestone phosphate at the drug store
 which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick
 appearance, awaiting those who
 practice internal sanitation. We must
 remember that inside cleanliness is
 more important than outside, because
 the skin does not absorb impurities
 to contaminate the blood while the
 pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

 and believe the gospel." (Mark 1:15).
 The thirty years at Nazareth must be
 included in the commendation of Mk.
 1:11, as truly as Mk. 9:7 covers all his public ministry. If we are fully yielded he will work in us all things well
 pleasing in his sight (Heb. 13:20, 21).

Lesson III.—Jesus at work Mark
 1:21-34. Golden Text, John 9:4, "We
 must work the works of him that sent
 me, while it is day." The teachings
 and healings of this lesson were sam-
 ples of his daily life during all his
 public ministry, as it is written in Acts 10:38, "God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and
 with power; who went about doing
 good, and healing all who were op-
 pressed of the devil; for God was with
 him." See also Matt. 4:23.

Lesson IV.—Jesus forgiving sin,
 Mark 2:1-12. Golden Text, Mark 2:10,
 "The son of man hath authority on
 earth to forgive sins." Therefore he
 is truly God for the scribes were right
 when they said, "Who can forgive sins
 but God only?" (vs. 7). It is written
 in Acts 10:43, "To him give all the
 prophets witness, that through his
 name, whosoever believeth in him shall
 receive remission of sins." See Isa.
 1:18; 48:22; Luke 24:46, 47; Acts
 13:38, 39.

Lesson V.—Jesus Lord of the Sab-
 bath, Mark 2:23 to 3:6. Golden Text,
 Mark 2:28, "The Son of Man is Lord
 even of the Sabbath." The great de-
 ceiver and liar has led men to believe
 that we must in some way by good
 deeds win the favor of God, hence all
 man's efforts to be righteous. The truth
 of God is that he loves the world, that Christ Jesus came into the world to
 save sinners, that no sacrifice or Sab-
 bath-keeping can avail till we are for-
 given.

Lesson VI.—Jesus chooses the
 twelve, Mark 3:7-14. Golden Text, Mark
 3:14, "He appointed twelve, that they
 might be with him, and that he might
 send them forth to preach." The next
 verse says that they were to heal sick-
 ness and cast out demons, for preach-
 ing without some manifestation of the
 power of God may be only vain talk.

Lesson VII.—Jesus teaching by para-
 bles, Mark 4:1-20. Golden Text, Gal.
 3:7, "Be not deceived; God is not
 mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth,
 that shall he also reap." When they
 would not receive him, nor his king-
 dom, then he began to speak in para-
 bles, and thus to declare how things
 would be during this age of his rejection.
 Our great work is to be his mes-
 sengers with his message, sowing the
 seed of his word, with the assurance
 that it will always accomplish his
 pleasure.

Lesson VIII.—The mystery of the
 kingdom, Mark 4:21-34. Golden Text,
 Isa. 11:9, "The earth shall be full of
 the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters
 cover the sea." The parables of this
 lesson, and more fully the seven para-
 bles of Matt. 13, give no encourage-
 ment to the thought that we are here
 to win the world to Christ, which can-
 not be done in this age. Yet Mark
 14:21; Isa. 11:9 and Heb. 2:14, shall be
 truly and literally fulfilled in the next
 age through Israel.

Lesson IX.—Jesus bringing peace,
 Mark 4:35 to 5:20. Golden Text, Ps.
 124:3, "Jehovah hath done great things
 for us; whereof we are glad." Stilling
 the storm and healing the demoniac
 show his power over the devil and his
 works, and when he shall come in his
 glory he will bind the devil in the pit
 for a thousand years, and he, the son
 of David, will be King of Israel, King
 of Kings and Lord of Lords, one King
 over all the earth.

Lesson X.—Jesus restoring life and
 health, Mark 5:21-43. Golden Text,
 Matt. 8:17, "Himself took our infirmi-
 ties, and bare our diseases." When
 the kingdom shall have fully come
 there shall be on this earth no more
 death, neither sorrow, nor crying,
 neither shall there be any more pain
 (Rev. 21:4).

Lesson XI.—Jesus sending forth the
 twelve, Mark 6:1-13. Golden Text,
 Matt. 10:8, "Freely ye receive, freely
 give." Whether it was the twelve or
 the seventy, he sent them forth in his
 name, clothed with his power, to tell
 the good news of the kingdom, and to
 heal all manner of sickness, and even
 to raise the dead, but he warned them
 that they would be hated, and perse-
 cuted and perhaps killed for his sake.

Lesson XII.—Jesus ministering to
 the multitude, Mark 6:32-56. Golden Text, Matt. 9:38, "The Son of Man
 came not to be ministered unto but to
 minister and to give his life a ransom
 for many." He wants his redeemed on
 earth to let him live his life in us, and
 use us to make him known to others.

W. R. HUMPHREYS ASKS COUNTY SUPERINTENDENCY

W. R. Humphreys of Grampian is a
 candidate for county superintendent
 of public schools in Clearfield county.
 Mr. Humphreys is one of the best
 known school teachers in the county.
 He has had an experience of many
 years in the profession. He was assistant principal of the Curwensville
 school, principal of the Market street
 school in Clearfield, principal of the Lumber City schools and principal of
 the Grampian schools.

He also taught school four terms
 in Lawrence township. For ten years
 he conducted a summer school at Grampian. At the election of county
 superintendent four years ago Mr.
 Humphreys was defeated by a very small
 margin. The directors will elect a superintendent on April 9.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur
 Recipe and Nobody Will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for
 restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's
 time. She used it to keep her hair
 beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that
 dull, faded or streaked appearance,
 this simple mixture was applied with
 wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and
 out of date. Nowadays, by asking at
 any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of
 "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Com-
 pound" you will get this famous old
 preparation, improved by the addition
 of other ingredients which can be de-
 pended upon to restore natural color
 and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist
 says it darkens the hair so naturally
 and evenly that nobody can tell it has
 been applied. You simply dampen a
 sponge or soft brush with it and draw
 this through your hair, taking one
 strand at a time. By morning the
 gray hair disappears, and after an-
 other application or two, it becomes
 beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Com-
 pound is a delightful toilet requisite
 for those who desire a more youth-
 ful appearance. It is not intended
 for the cure, mitigation or prevention
 of disease.

 preciated by followers of all athletic
